REGIONAL WATER PROJECT

The Alberta Ministry of Transportation announced on July 20, 2022, the approval of the Water for Life grant application for the design of the Central Peace Regional Water Treatment Plant. The funding covers up to 90 percent of the $2,222,222 project.

Saddle Hills County applied for the grant on behalf of the Central Peace G5 Group of municipalities. The G5 Group includes Birch Hill County, the MD of Spirit River, Saddle Hills County, the Town of Spirit River, and the Village of Rycroft.

The Central Peace Regional Water Treatment Plant is the next phase of the Central Peace Regional Water Supply project. The current phase in progress is a new water supply intake and lift station from the Peace River, by the Dunvegan Bridge, as well as approximately 36 km of new raw water pipeline to the Spirit River and Rycroft reservoirs. This $40 million project is funded in part by the Government of Canada, the Government of Alberta and Saddle Hills County.

"We are excited for the opportunity to be able to provide a reliable source of potable water to the residents, businesses, and industries in the Central Peace Region. This is a major step towards securing the future of our communities."

- Reeve Alvin Hubert

The G5 Group currently relies on local water treatment plants and intermittent surface runoff water sources for their potable water needs. There are currently seven water treatment plants in the G5 region.

The primary objective behind the project is to provide the participating municipalities with a reliable, safe, and expanded water treatment system, capable of satisfying the needs of the region well into the future.

Saddle Hills County hosted an Open House for the Central Peace Regional Water Supply project at the Spirit River Centennial Hall.

VOLUNTEER BBQ

Saddle Hills County held a special celebration on Thursday, August 25, 2022 at the Moonshine Lake day use area to honour the County's volunteers.

The County has been unable to host the annual event since 2019. So it was with a real sense of pride and satisfaction that Council and staff honoured this year's nominees as well as the volunteer firefighters and first responders.

Nominations were accepted from all over the County and nominators were asked to fill out a form available on the website or by request detailing the reasons the nominee should be honoured.

The Volunteer Appreciation BBQ was organized in order to recognize the contributions of volunteers who were nominated by County residents as well as volunteer firefighters and first responders who have reached milestones in their careers.

The six residents who were honoured were: Theresa Akeroyd, Valerie Bates, Gerd Cramer, Carla Day, Patricia Maxwell and Kayla Robinson. Each winner received a gift which included a County cooler bag, a BBQ set and a set of knives together with a special certificate commemorating their service.

Central Peace Gas Co-op kindly donated a 40,000 BTU stainless steel Dual-Tube Broil King Propane BBQ as a door prize which was won by Russell Radke. Prize winner drawn by Tess Thomi.

STARS Air Ambulance was also on hand offering quided tours of their rescue helicopter.

The County has been a longtime supporter of STARS providing annual financial support as well as a $500,000 gift in 2020 towards the purchase of the new H145 helicopter to serve residents of the county and the entire northern region.

"Saddle Hills County values STARS and the very important work they do. Not only are our residents safer because of STARS, but Saddle Hills County is a safer place for business and industry because of the life-saving STARS does. We count ourselves lucky to be able to rely on STARS and to be able to support them in the way we do." - Reeve Alvin Hubert, 2020

VALERIE BATES

Unfortunately Valerie was unable to attend the BBQ. Bay Tree Park, Bonanza School Bring It Society

Nominated by: Joanne and Lee Lefebvre

Valerie Bates is a registered nurse. She is there to assist anyone and everyone who needs help, whether it's medical help, or any other problem that people may have. She is always there for a friend to talk to and to help when someone loses a loved one, or needs to be consoled. She is a great organizer and helps out at our Cotillion Hall, and with many other activities.

She inspires the older people (and not so old) to exercise and keep moving, even in the winter time. She helps out at her church in Dawson Creek and is a Sunday school teacher. She helps out in any way she can and never tires. She is a good friend and a great neighbour. Valerie is the best thing that ever happened to Cotillion, and the people who live in the area.

When someone is sick she will bring them food and a get well card to cheer them up. Valerie has more energy than anyone I know. If anyone should receive this award it should be her, for the years of dedication she has shown. She is the first one to be there to help and the last one to leave. We all feel very safe in our community.

She is married to Darrel, and they have two children, and a farm, in Cotillion.

THERESA ACKROYD & KAYLA

ROBINSON

Fourth Creek and Silver Valley areas Nominated by: Daniela Dolen

Theresa and Kayla put on two big events in Fourth Creek and Silver Valley that bring the whole county together:

- Edna's Christmas in the Valley, and the annual
- Easter Egg Hunt

They both have leadership and creativity skills which they share with others in the community. Edna's Christmas in the Valley brings many people out every year and both kids and adults just love it. This was the 9th year for the event.

The Easter Egg Hunt was shut down by COVID but because all the candy and chocolates were ready, the Easter bunny was able to come to everyone's house in 2020 to deliver goodies to the children. This year they had more than 125 kids from all over the county. There were plenty of snacks, crafts and Easter egg decorating for everyone. It was well-organized and the kids loved it.

Both Teresa and Kayla are exceptional because they are willing to help out anywhere that they are needed and they bring the community together from Woking to Bay Tree to Savanna.

GERD CRAMER

Woking and Westmark Community Builder Nominated by: Karen Egge

Gerd is an active community builder in the Woking and Westmark area. He presently serves as the vice-president of the Westmark Farmers League. The treasurer of the St. John's cemetery committee, member of the St. John's Lutheran church council and vice president of public relations for the Dunvegan Toastmasters club. He has been a long-time firefighter with the Woking department.

Gerd has many skills he shares with the community. One example would be helping with the design of the Westmark Hall and supporting the work bees with hands-on labour to finish the project. He took the lead working with contractors to install the sound and screen technology needed for the hall.

People like working with him and supporting his ideas for improvements. He continues to build his public speaking and leadership skills with active membership in the Dunvegan Toastmasters club and we appreciate his initiative and commitment.

The community knows if Gerd is involved in the project or organization because the work will get done and he keeps his commitments. He is a good listener and works effectively to get other peoples' ideas incorporated in the project. He is good at getting others to volunteer and is respectful of their time and expertise.

CARLA DAY

Gordondale Community Club

Nominated by: Joyce Matkowski

Carla has spent hours phoning and organizing for our new hall in Gordondale.

When she takes on a project she sees it through to the end. She doesn't give up.

PATRICIA MAXWELL

Bay Tree Park, Bonanza School Bring It Society Nominated by: Phoenix Maxwell (daughter)

My Mom has had the determination to help make the Bay Tree Park a safe and comfortable place for people to hold gatherings and events. She does amazing work with the Bonanza School Bring It Society and has helped raise money for our school to provide us with necessities.

If my mom is asked to do something, she makes it her job to complete it as fast and efficiently as possible. No matter how packed her schedule may be, she always manages to find time for my brothers and me.

VOLUNTEER FIREFIGHTERS &

FIRST RESPONDERS

Not all of the volunteer firefighters and first responders were able to attend the event. Those that were in attendance received their medals and certificates commemorating their service. The remaining awards will be handed out at the individual fire halls during regular meetings.

OUR HISTORY

Mew Horizons
Adapted from a piece by Chloe Crisanti

Following the Second World War, the government opened the Silver Valley area to new homesteaders, clearing many acres of land for settlers. Friends would tell each other about new land they had acquired near the Spirit River, word of mouth prompting even more migration to the area.

Contributing to this migration was the arrival of the three major telephone companies, beginning in the 1950's: The Burnt River Rural Mutual Telephone Company, the Saddle Mountain Mutual Telephone Company, and Westmark Mutual Telephone Co. The companies dissolved in 1970 when telecom was taken over by the provincially owned Alberta Government Telephones (AGT)

Following the strikes and pickets of the 1930's, the workers of the area began forming clubs, unions, and other community groups. In the workplace, this facilitated negotiation and representation as opposed to direct action, but outside the workplace, these organizations fostered community engagement, hosting events like dances and pie socials.

The UFA, and other large unions and workers' organizations, were active in the area at this time, existing as a lobbying group and then as a political party. Its main function to local residents was community organization and service provision through their co-operatives.

4-H has always been very active in the area, starting a variety of agriculture, ranching, and cultural clubs throughout the post-war decades. These clubs taught young people how to raise livestock through hands on learning. One club of note was the 4-H Clothing Club, which taught young women home economics and etiquette.

Other organizations also began at this time, helping to shape their communities. The Silver Valley Busy Bees was a ladies' club which raised funds through raffles, potlucks, and other events, eventually raising $200 to construct a new community hall. The Horseshoe of the Peace Historical Society hosted informational events and compiled a local history book. The Fourth Creek Junior Forest Wardens and The Girl Forest Guards were groups dedicated to teaching youths about environmental conservation and survival skills.

As well as formal groups, loose organization of families and interest have been vital to health and community, forming many of the sports teams in the area (mainly baseball and hockey), and even providing swimming lessons at Moonshine Lake.

EXPLORE THE COUNTY

The County has further expanded our online presence by partnering with local photographer and videographer, Billi Comstock, to provide a number of beautiful, tourism-related videos exploring the County. So far Billi has created videos for us of Moonshine Lake, Cotillion Park and Jack Bird Pond. These can all be viewed on our Youtube Channel, TikTok or within our Instagram reels (@saddlehillscounty).

We have also been working on a series of reels in collaboration with community groups, local libraries and historic sites throughout the County. So far we have featured the Blueberry Hall, Happy Valley Ag & Recreation Club, Savanna Recreation Complex, Woking Community Hall, Munro Presbyterian Church and Holy Trinity Greek Catholic Church. Videos of the other community halls, churches, local libraries and fire halls are currently in the works.

We hope to help make the wider community aware of all of the amazing places our county has to offer!

The County's Youtube page also includes a series of educational 'AG Chat' videos by the County's AG Services Department, as well as the 'Home on the Range' webinars for agricultural producers. There are a series of drone videos of the County's campgrounds available which, along with the other content, we hope will help to promote the County as a potential tourist destination.

BUSINESS FEATURE

DIVERSE DRILLING LTD.

Bay Tree, AB (780) 933.3137 darren@diversedrilling.ca www.diversedrilling.ca

Q&A WITH DARREN BATES, OWNER

You offer geo-technical and environmental drilling services. Can you explain what this means to those of us who are not familiar with what you do? Geo-tech drilling is where we test soil densities and stratigraphy for engineered structures and facilities. Often this pertains to new buildings, piling installation, bridge installation and pipeline crossings. The environmental aspect of drilling is basically testing soils for contamination. There is upstream drilling, which includes well sites and plant sites and downstream, which is generally fuel and bulk stations.

Diverse Drilling has also evolved to include vac and steam trucks as well as some general trucking such as gravel and contaminated soil hauling.

Do each of the services you offer require specialized drilling equipment and training?

For the most part, the drilling is pretty straightforward for regular soil sampling. The tooling consists of 5-foot-long drill stem (auger) with a 6-inch diameter with hex fittings, male and female, that slide together and then are retained with a pin. This stem is drilled into the ground then retracted straight out and the environmental consultant retrieves the soil sample from this auger. To advance the hole, the auger is drilled back in and another auger is attached and drilled down. We also have hollow stem augers, air rotary and ODEX drilling capabilities.

How long has Diverse Drilling been in business? We have been in business since 2003.

Where are most of your drilling projects? The drilling projects have taken us all over northern B.C. and Alberta whereas the vac and trucking work is mostly local.

What are some of your company's core values?
Obviously, safety is at the top of the list: we want everyone going home in one piece and, quite frankly, with safety systems such as ISNet, Complyworks and PICs, injuries or lost time accidents are detrimental to small companies such as ours. Maintaining a solid relationship with clients is important, and it starts from the bottom with a good working environment before the employees and equipment leave the shop.

Your company has regular safety audits. Can you explain why these audits are important?

We are COR-certified, so that includes yearly audits. We also do our own on-site inspections and quarterly safety meetings. The audits are a tool to find and assess issues regarding safety. Whether it be personnel, equipment, PPE, engineered or documentation, these are all part of the safety processes that are reviewed by an external auditor and management to make sure we are operating accordingly. The information and updates are also passed on to employees or equipment updated as needed.

It says your drillers and driller's assistants are trained on the job. What is the basic education level they should have before they can start training?

Attitude, experience and common sense are, quite honestly, more important than the education background of the employees in our industry.

The County advertises in June of each year to determine the number of interested residents in each area, to help inform the continuing sequence to the County's existing rural water infrastructure. BRETON PLUMBING & HEATING

Gordondale, AB (780) 864.9673 bretonplumbing@gmail.com@bretonplumbing

O&A WITH JOSH CAMPBELL, OWNER

You are a Red Seal certified plumber and a Class B gasfitter. What does that mean?

Red Seal means that I am able to work and pull permits anywhere in Canada once I passed my inter-provincial exam. As a Class B gasfitter, I am able to work on gas appliances up to 400,000btu.

Do you offer free estimates?

Yes, I do. I will come out to your home or business to get a better understanding of what needs to be done to provide a more accurate estimate.

A lot of houses around here are older homes. Is it difficult to repair older pipes with new materials? Have plumbing and heating changed much since these homes were built?

There are a lot of adapters available to transition between older and newer material. The biggest difficulty I run into is the accessibly to the location where I have to replace or fix. Regulations and codes have become stricter in the past 20 or so years. On gas, a big change is the efficiency of new appliances versus their older counterparts.

What is backflow testing, and can backflow be prevented?

We don't provide backflow testing at this time.

How did you get started in the plumbing and heating business?

Coming from a family of tradesmen, I knew construction was what I wanted to do. As a teenager, I spent a few summers working for a plumbing and heating company and enjoyed the variety of work involved in the trade. Twelve years later, it is something I still really enjoy doing.

Is any job too big, or small?

As I am only a one-man company at this time, jobs can be too big for me in the sense that I don't have the labour force to complete large jobs with a short timeline. On the flip side, no job is too small for me.

You offer 24-hour emergency call out service. How often do you get called out of bed, and how does that affect the rest of your day?

Depending on the season (winter callouts are more frequent), I would say an average of 2-3 times a month. Sometimes I have to shift my day to ensure I can still do the scheduled jobs I had. People are pretty understanding when they know you were at someone's house who didn't have heat in minus 20-degree weather.

Do you have anything you'd like to add? As a newer, local business in the area I look forward to serving the community for years to come.
